

2008 InfraGard Meeting the Challenge Award

2008 InfraGard Challenge Award

Background

This award will be presented to one or more persons who have met or overcome a specific challenge in the pursuit of meeting the goals and objectives of InfraGard.

The Award

The award is an engraved 5.5” x5.5” optic crystal and black marble base pictured on the title page of this document. It is given annually to an InfraGard member who is selected from all nominations received by the InfraGard Awards Committee. The award is presented at the annual meeting of the InfraGard National Congress.

Eligibility

All InfraGard members in good standing are eligible to be nominated for the award.

Selection

The InfraGard Awards Committee will select the annual award recipient each year, from all nominations received by the nominations closing date. The criteria for selection of the recipient are subjective and are based solely on the written submissions.

The identification of the award recipient will remain secret until announced at the time of award presentation, although the recipient will be invited to attend the InfraGard National Congress to receive the award in person. Decision of the awards committee will be final.

The criteria were deliberately defined to be subjective, “contributions to the advancement of InfraGard and support of its goals and mission,” to ensure a diversity of viewpoints and incorporate different regional and local values that better represent the entire organization. This also allows consideration of future unusual circumstances worthy of merit that might be excluded with more explicit criteria.

To assure that the selection process is fair and objective, multiple judges evaluate and rank the nominations independently. Because each nomination is scored individually, multiple nominations for the same nominee do not bias the outcome of the process. Each judge’s interpretation of the criteria and the written nomination comments bring diverse, subjective values appropriate to a national process representing different regional concerns into the selection process. Due to the large number of possible nominees and the fact that only one nominee will be selected from the field, the identity of each chapter’s nominee should be kept confidential, between the chapter and the Awards Committee. This policy assures that the process is a positive experience for all involved, while respecting the feelings of those ultimately not selected for the award. Consequently, nominations, scoring, and work of the Awards Committee are proprietary to the Awards Committee and will not be disclosed, beyond the selection of a single recipient.

Each official InfraGard chapter may submit one nomination annually for the Challenge Award. The Awards Committee encourages all InfraGard members to communicate nominee preferences to their local chapter leadership.
